To: All ICT and Computer Studies Teachers in Uganda

Dear members,

RE: INVITATION TO WORDCAMP KAMPALA CONFERENCE 30th Nov – 1st Dec 2019

You are specially invited to attend the upcoming WordCamp Kampala 2019 conference which will take place on Saturday 30th November and Sunday 1st December, 2019 at Hive Colab, Kanjokya Street, Kamwokya, Kampala. WordCamps are conferences covering everything related to WordPress, the world's most popular content management system and are attended by people ranging from beginners to professional web developers and consultants. Check out www.2019.kampala.wordcamp.org for the detailed program of the WordCamp.

This year's WordCamp is mainly sponsored by WooCommerce, Jetpack, Bluehost, HubSpot, GoDaddy and Digital blend. As ITAU, we have negotiated some discounted tickets of UGX 17,000 for members who register with us through wordcamp.ictteachersug.net. A conference ticket will grant you access to the venue, meals (breakfast and lunch for the two days), a camp T-shirt, Internet Access and other logistics.

We usually encourage our members to attend WordCamps in order to learn more on creating modern, efficient websites so as to support their schools in development and management of school websites. Web Development also has a great potential for earning side income. Everyone is encouraged to carry a laptop for the practical sessions.

To book your ticket, call the undersigned for guidance and confirmation before 27th November 2019. For members coming from upcountry, private arrangements have to be made for your accommodation.

Together against computer illiteracy,

Stephen Dumba
