ICT Teachers Association of Uganda.

Dear members,

RE: SPECIAL INVITATION TO ATTEND THE WORDCAMP KAMPALA CONFERENCE 2018

You are cordially invited to attend the WordCamp Kampala 2018 conference which will take place from Fri 23rd - Sun 25th November 2018 at Hivecolab, Kanjokya House, Kamwokya, Kampala. The conference will focus on website design and publishing in general with special attention to the popular WordPress Content Management Software (CMS) which now powers 1/3 (a third) of the world wide web.

Web design is one of the topics on the O level Computer Studies Curriculum, but many of the teachers teach it theoretically, while others only end at creating basic static webpages, and cannot even support their schools in creating dynamic school websites or keeping them updated, which is why many of the schools just hire external companies to create websites for them, yet such a task would conveniently and cost effectively be handled by the school's ICT staff internally.

The teachers who will attend this 3-day conference will be empowered through:

- Getting exposed to the latest trends and best practices in website development.
- Sharing tips on leveraging on the power of the WordPress software to create stunning easy-to-update websites and completely customising them in various ways.
- Accessing great opportunities to get started with their own or their school's websites free of charge, courtesy of the various conference sponsors.
- Attending a special hands-on session for ICT teachers focusing on how to utilise to the joint ictteachersug.net website, for the benefit of themselves and their learners.
- Inspirational and resourceful presentations by experts and tech companies, such as how the MTN mobile money payments are integrated in ecommerce sites plus a lot more like Google AMP, SEO, Security, Optimisation, Debugging, Gutenberg, etc.

The workshop fee has been specially discounted for ICT Teachers to pay only UGX 20,000 once, which will cater for meals (breakfast and lunch for the 3 days), a T-shirt, Wi-Fi Access and other logistics, but excludes night accommodation (participants will have to commute from their homes or from their privately arranged residences). Everyone is encouraged to carry a laptop as the sessions will be highly practical.

You are advised to visit wordcamp.ictteachersug.net more details and registration, or call the undersigned for any further inquiries.
