Uganda ICT Teachers Association

Together against Computer Illiteracy

www.ictteachersug.net

Background

- Whenever ICT Teachers come here for workshops, the idea for creating an Association has always come up. – More Narration by Mr. Wanja Bernard.
- There are already some groups of ICT teachers in some regions with some forms of associations.
- On 12th August 2016, SIR Nicholas Mubedhe initiated the Uganda ICT Teachers Association Groups on Whatsapp – He made me one of the admin and we intensified mobilization of members to join in. During last years retooling more members joined.
- Heated debates on forming the UITA Association followed. Members resolved that we create a joint website to help us create more awareness and register more members – including those not on Whatsapp.

Background

We came up with a website at icteachersug.net

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Uganda ICT Teachers Association website. The browser address bar displays <https://www.icteachersug.net>. The website header includes contact information: "For Inquiries: +256706060740 | info@icteachersug.net | Notice: Reg. Form for THINK ICT Quiz". A "Quick Links" dropdown menu is visible. The main header features the association's logo, which depicts three stylized figures, and the text "Uganda ICT Teachers Association" with the tagline "Together against Computer Illiteracy". A search bar is located on the right. The navigation menu includes links for Home, About Us, What We Do, Member Area, SHOP, News / Updates, Resources, and Contact Us. The main content area displays a large group photo of members and a welcome message: "Welcome to UITA". Below this, the mission statement reads: "Our Mission is to provide a platform for ICT teachers to share, innovate and facilitate world-standard research, teaching and learning ICT in".

Drafting the Constitution

Members started brainstorming about the constitution, and we came up with a draft constitution.

The draft constitution can be downloaded from the UITA website at <https://www.icteachersug.net/uita-constitution-draft/>

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the address bar displaying <https://www.icteachersug.net/uita-constitution-draft/>. The browser interface includes a toolbar with options like 'Customize', '1', '+ New', 'Edit Page', and 'Events'. Below the browser window, a comment thread is visible. The first comment is by 'Gobera Paul' dated 'May 25, 2018 at 8:48 am'. The comment text reads: 'I suggest that we also incorporate a legal advisor in this Association because maintaining a lawful Association we also need legal advises along side the constitution. Otherwise good work wel done dear colleagues and be blessed as we journey together towards our vision.' Below the comment is a 'Reply' button. The second comment is by 'Ssensalire Rajab' dated 'May 25, 2018 at 10:08 am'. The comment text reads: 'So far job well-done, I salute all members behind this noble cause. My suggestion is that the acronym AGM which I guess refers to "Annual General Meeting" should first be defined and thereafter be used as AGM. Thank you.' Below this comment is also a 'Reply' button.

I suggest that we also incorporate a legal advisor in this Association because maintaining a lawful Association we also need legal advises along side the constitution. Otherwise good work wel done dear colleagues and be blessed as we journey together towards our vision.

Drafting the Constitution

Lets continue the brainstorming to refine our UITA constitution online!

A decorative network diagram in the bottom left corner, consisting of a series of interconnected nodes and lines, resembling a molecular structure or a complex network.

Way forward:

We now need to come up with a steering committee to:

- undertake all the necessary tasks and mobilisation of ICT teachers country wide in order to ensure that our association is fully, validly and legally registered, recognised and embraced nationally.
- immediately take on the roles in acting capacity for a period of not more than one year - to debate and finalise with the draft constitution, officially register association and organise the first UITA Annual General Meeting (AGM) in which the Fully Constituted UITA executive will be elected basing on an officially adopted constitution.
